The British Council builds connections, understanding and trust between people in the UK and other countries through arts and culture, education and the English language. We help young people to gain the skills, confidence and connections they are looking for to realise their potential and to participate in strong and inclusive communities. We support them to learn English, to get a high-quality education and to gain internationally recognised qualifications. Our work in arts and culture stimulates creative expression and exchange and nurtures creative enterprise.

The British Council provides learners with a rewarding and stimulating English language learning experience. Our teachers, who receive world-class training and use highly effective teaching methodologies, aim to help all learners reach their full potential. This is achieved through respecting our learners as diverse individuals and encouraging them to be active participants in their own learning.

We firmly believe that all children have potential and that every child matters – everywhere in the world. Children are a top priority as they have a unique honesty and willingness to exchange knowledge and ideas that can meaningfully build trust and make a sustainable difference in the future worldwide.

When you book an English course with us, we promise:

• an innovative, interactive and safe English learning environment
• experienced, internationally qualified teachers who have an expert level of proficiency in English and will get the best out of your child
• specially designed courses relevant to your child’s development journey at school.
Our teaching team comprises a diverse and varied group of English speakers. We believe that this diversity brings great value to us as an organisation and also to you, our customers and students. Experienced and up-to-date
The British Council has been helping students around the world for over 80 years and remains at the forefront of English language teaching. Our teachers receive continuous professional development on employing the latest teaching methodologies, techniques and technologies for teaching modern, real-life English.
Our playgroup and kindergarten courses

Our aim is to develop in your child a love for English and a positive attitude towards language learning. Our courses give children the opportunity to learn the language in an English-speaking environment and help prepare them for entering kindergarten and primary schools.

• We use fun and interactive communicative activities such as games, songs, chants and stories.
• Children engage in structured and free play activities to practise what they have learned in class.
• Our lessons are theme-based and we nurture reading and communication through a range of activities including arts and crafts, show and tell, role-plays and experiments.
• After an initial presentation on the topic of the day, children get to work in small groups so that the teacher is able to give each child more attention and help. Children also get group time with classmates, which encourages the development of social skills and the use of English in a natural setting.
• Our varied classroom activities support personal, social, emotional and physical development, problem solving, reasoning and numeracy, knowledge and understanding of the world and creative development.

Our primary courses

We see a bright future for your child. At the British Council, we use many different teaching methodologies to boost your child’s confidence and build positive attitudes towards language learning.

• Primary Plus uses fun, interactive activities such as communicative games, songs, chants, drama and role-plays, which emphasise spoken fluency and improve students’ pronunciation.
• Primary Plus uses topics which are relevant and motivating for the age and level of the students to present and develop grammar and vocabulary for everyday use.
• Students read and write stories, poems, letters, reviews and reports to learn about a variety of text types and styles of writing.
• Students work on projects to activate and consolidate English learned in class, and develop leadership, critical thinking and digital literacy skills.
• Parents and students can keep track of their learning progress together on our online learning hub.

Our teaching methodology

At the British Council, we help our students maximise their English learning potential. We use the most effective methodologies for all age groups to develop real communicative ability. We believe that interaction between students and the teacher is the best way to achieve this and help your child learn English.
Our expert teachers not only provide a positive learning experience for your child but also guide you through your child’s language and literacy development. Our playgroups are run separately for children of 12–18, 19–24 and 25–35 months of age in our dedicated, large and well-equipped Early Childhood Education Centre.

Tips for parents and families

How to make reading and writing fun?

For some children, reading or writing can be a chore simply because they do not have sufficient interest in what they are doing. However, as parents, we know that reading and writing are essential skills that children need to have in order to manage the challenges that arise in school and in life. Below are some activities that you can use to make reading and writing fun.

READING

Mystery Word Bag
This is a fun activity that is designed to give your child practice in reading individual words and improve their comprehension skills. Place six to eight words from a story you and your child both know into either a box or a bag. You and your child then take turns to pick words from the bag. After a word has been picked, encourage your child to read the word out loud, breaking up the individual phonics sounds for them if the word is difficult. Once this has been completed, ask your child to think about the word and where it occurred in the story.

Board Games
Board games are always fun and are a great way of bonding with your child. Rather than use existing board games, create or print off a blank board game template and add either words or individual sounds to each square. Then, take turns with your child to move counters around the board and read the words or say the individual sounds. You can also ask your child to write down any additional words they know that include the sounds they encounter.

WRITING

Writing Stencils
These are fun tools that build your child’s fine motor skills as they learn to write English letters. They can also help raise your child’s awareness of the differences between lowercase and capital letters. Many different types of stencils can be found in bookshops and stationery shops.

Sand Writing
Most children enjoy playing in sand, and this is a fun way of channelling that enthusiasm towards a literacy aim. As your child’s writing confidence develops, you can ask them to write letters in the sand. A reminder though: make sure that you do not allow your child to touch their mouth with any sand on their hands.

Parent, family and student support

- We have various means of keeping in touch with the parents and families of our students to ensure you are well informed about the centre and your child’s progress in class.

These include:

- parent information booklets
- report cards
- SMS messages or telephone calls (for example, if your child misses a class, we will contact you as soon as possible)
- parent events and informal chats
- workshops
- our website and Facebook page.

Our aim is to continually improve the products and services that we offer and we are always happy to hear your suggestions and ideas.

Special educational needs

We are committed to providing an inclusive learning environment in which children are given the support, wherever possible, to achieve their potential in a spirit of inclusion and acceptance. We value the abilities and achievements of all our students. We recognise that parents and families hold key information and knowledge about their child. If your child has a specific educational or medical need, we ask that you share this knowledge at the time of registration. Lift access is available at all British Council English language centres in Hong Kong.
