6. 練習及模擬考試概覽

- 6.1 考生可點擊主頁左方控制台  按鈕並進入「Practice」，內含聽、讀、寫、說四項類別，直接進行練習。

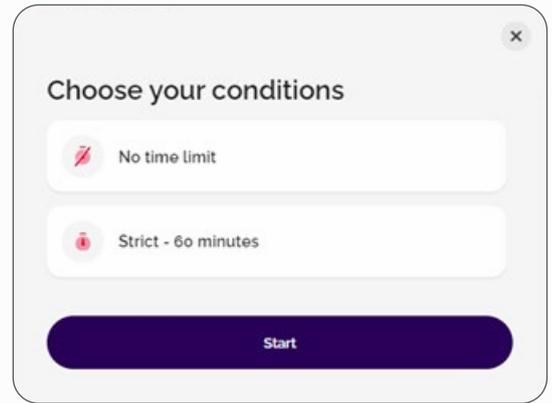

課程以漸進解鎖式設計，學生必須完成當前單元後才能進入下一單元，以確保學習過程循序漸進、不遺漏重點。這些課程著重於培養考生完成考試所需的實際技能與應試策略，而非單純記憶答案，能有效幫助學生建立正確的解題思維。

- 6.2 考生可於口語、寫作、聽力及閱讀類別中選取 練習 (Practice) 或 模擬考試 (Take a mock test)。建議考生登入後於每個類別各完成一個練習及模擬考試，助系統分析強弱項，為考生建立個人化備試計劃。

6.3 考生可於模擬考試選擇「計時模式」或「練習模式」。計時模式可模擬正式考試情境，幫助考生適應考試節奏與時間壓力；練習模式則適合課後練習或針對特定題型進行訓練。透過大量且真實的模擬考練習，學生能有效降低正式考試時的緊張感，並提升臨場表現的穩定度。

6.4 另外，考生亦可於口語及寫作類別中點選 練習 (Practice) 後，參考獲得不同分數的範文，範文會根據 IELTS 四大評分標準，逐項說明給分原因，幫助學生清楚理解評分邏輯與高分寫作的關鍵。

In this statement is about that the amount of people suffering from stress is growing in various nations.

In my opinion stress has become a big issue in many countries affecting individuals and the main causes for this illness include economic pressures, work-related demands, health concerns, social isolation and exposure to global events. For most of the people financial instability and rising living costs contribute significantly to stress levels. Another factor to increasing people suffering from stress is the levels of living made a big gap as comparison. Nowadays most of the parents educated their kids in normal schools from the city but during on those days 30% of parents have jobs secured and good salaries can afford to put them kids to be educated in private educational sistem. Those things made most of the people including sometimes them kids to serve as major sources of stress. Strong reason for stress and anxiety in this time, specially peoples from my country were i am from, which is Romania is the war between Rusia and Ukraina because our country is Ukraina neighbours. The war produce a lot of pressure because they feel unsecured for them life and them kids.

In the past few decades the earth registred major changes in global events as increased climate change and political instability induces a sense of helplessness and chronic stress.

As procedures could be adopted to reduce the number of people suffering of stress i can see that the government should implementing programs that teach coping mechanisms, such as mindfulness, meditation. Another good tips is that employers can introduce flexible working hours and give the opportunity to increase salary.

Implementing these measures can significantly contribute to reducing stress levels and improving overall well-being.

Explanation:

Tobias was given a band score of 6 for this Part 2 IELTS Speaking test. Overall, he wanted to achieve a band score of 7 for Speaking.

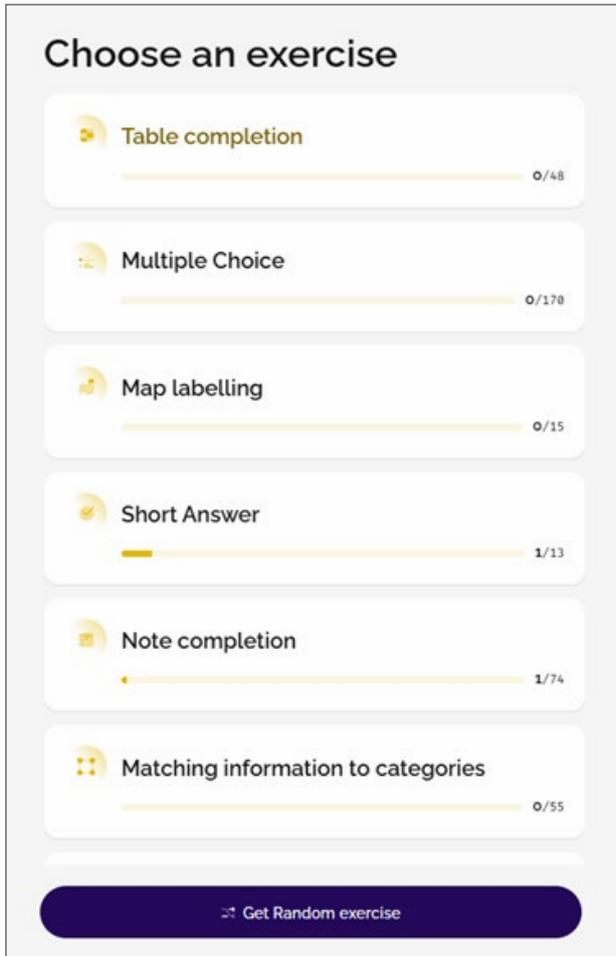

Tobias speaks fluently, doesn't show any problems with finding words and doesn't hesitate when he speaks. He adds new points and details and organises his speech well, meaning it is easy to follow what he is saying. This area is definitely a strong point for Tobias.

His pronunciation is generally fine, with the mispronunciation of occasional individual words or sounds (/w/ instead of /v/ in 'village'). However, he uses linking sounds well and this helps him to keep the rhythm in longer sentences. He shows good stress and intonation ('we went here together', 'I was there several times with my family')

The two graphs presents information about the marital status of the civilizations of Canada and Australia. Overall, there is a big trend in separated couples in both countries, especially in the North American one. Married is the second highest percentage of people in Canada, and the biggest in Australia. All others marital status together covers just a small portion of the total in the two countries. You partially met the task. Focus on providing a clear overview of the main trends and patterns, and ensure that all details are accurate and relevant to the key features.

The two charts are a breakdown of different types of relationship statuses among individuals of Canada and Australia. On the whole, most people are in a marriage. However, more Australian couples are living together rather than Canadian ones, where percentage of separation is higher. Apart from these two categories, figures showing individuals who are not married, widowed or divorced are similar in both countries. An exception to this is homosexual marriage, which is not reported in Australia. Nearly half (46%) of the Australia's population is actively married as compared to roughly one-third(31) of Canada's population. It can also be noted that in Canada, just over half(53%) of the marriages ended in separation in contrast to only 41% of Australia's population. Furthermore, people who are single or widow are more in Canada but the difference is only marginal in Australia. Lastly divorce ratio is the least in both countries with Australia being a percent higher than Canada.
